With the exception of a few matters of Infant School arrangement, the whole volume may be used to train even a single child in a nursery, under the care of a judicious mother or governess. This will at once appear, when it is considered that the First Section contains the general principle of Infant Training, - the Second describes the Apparatus, which will be found as useful in the nursery as in the Infant School, - the Third, with the exception of classification and monitors, arranges the instruction of a week, which a mother or governess may, if she pleases, adopt in private tuition, besides embodying the requisite intellectual lessons, - and the Fourth presents those moral lessons which every child requires, whether alone or in school.
